Estimates which are good during the 20th/21st centuries are generally poor over the long term history.